

Coins for Chris

Nauvoo-Colusa Elementary School will be collecting coins for the Chris Adams family as they go through his fight with cancer. Chris and his wife Darcy have 5 boys in age from 3 years old to a sophomore in college. This family is very active in their church, community and the boys school. Chris is a former bus driver for the Nauvoo-Colusa School District and Darcy has been involved in PTO and other programs in the school. Chris was recently diagnosed with Multiple Myeloma. Chris has been off of work due to diagnosis and treatment. He started his first round of chemotherapy in August, but has had recent complications and is not tolerating it well. We are raising money for them to help with unexpected medical, travel and living expenses.. Please consider donating to help this young family. Students can bring their coins to school and deposit them in the container by the office.